Massilion, Nov. 2-As early as noon it became apparent that the vote would be very light. This fact wor-ried leaders of both parties. Mayor Frantz had throughout the campaign placed his hopes of victory in a large vote but when it did not materialize he became less sanguine. What was particularly noticeable throughout the day was the absence of Wise sentiment. Few of the Republican caudidate's workers were to found about the polls although they were doubtless working at the busiest

ELECTION DUE, TURNBULL SAYS, TO INTELLIGENCE OF PEOPLE

I attribute my election and that of a Democratic council, solicitor and other officials to the intelligence of the people of Canton, and to them I owe much for this hearty expression of appreciation of my four year administration as the city's chief executive.

I have tried to do my duty to the city and its citizens. That they have appreciated my efforts on their behalf is shown by the large majority they gave me at the polis Tuesday. I am deeply appreciative.

I have slways wanted a Democratic administration to back me up in my effort to give the city the sort of an administration in have felt it deserved and now I have acquired it through the vote of the people.

with the council to back up my plans for the future of Canton and its people. I believe I will be able to do even a greater good than I have done in the past.
